

SALAZAR CAUGHT BY BORDER FORCE

Seventh Mexican General to Come Into Custody of U. S. Authorities.

THREE OTHERS ARE MISSING

Refugees Being Taken to El Paso
as Wards of Nation Reach Shafter.

Presido, Tex., January 16.—Efforts of the border authorities to round up the Mexican Federal generals who fled from Ojinaga, Mexico, before the rebels, resulted to-day in the arrest at Sanderson, Tex., of General Jose Ynez Salazar, who was taken from a train while en route to join the Federal garrison in Mexico.

Salazar is the seventh Mexican general to come into the custody of the United States authorities. The others are Generals Mercado, Castro, Landu, Orpinal, Aduana and Romero. Three others are still missing, but are believed to be hiding in Texas. They are Generals Pascual Orozco, Marcello Caravao and Antonio Rojas.

Salazar, who achieved distinction through his raids on the Mormon colonies in Northern Mexico, is wanted at Santa Fe, N. M., where he was indicted on charges of conspiracy to smuggle arms and ammunition into Mexico. He was arrested in El Paso, but forfeited his bond. Orozco also is under indictment, but never was arrested.

Salazar was playing cards in the train when captured. He at once admitted his identity, and was taken to Santa Fe to be put under bond for his appearance in Santa Fe. The military authorities, however, prepared to re-arrest him, and removed him to El Paso with the other Federal soldiers and generals who escaped to this country.

The capture of Salazar convinced the border patrol that Orozco and Caravao, possibly with other soldiers and officers, were hiding in Texas. Salazar at first jokingly said he thought Orozco had been killed at Ojinaga, but later he admitted that all the generals had escaped.

It appeared that Salazar and Orozco, with a small command, after escaping from Ojinaga, rode eastward along the border patrol to a point on the border near Sanderson, where the railroad is not far inland. In the meantime, a flimsy message had been sent to Mexico City that the Federal volunteer generals were in the state of Coahuila, en route to San Luis Potosi.

Menaced by New Danger.

Washington, January 16.—The Huerta government in Mexico, is menaced by a new danger, according to official reports to-day. The reports state that much alarm has been caused by suspicious circumstances growing out of the failure of the Federal campaign in the neighborhood of Acapulco.

The Federal garrison is said to have shown itself strangely apathetic in the presence of an alert enemy, General Blanco, the Constitutional leader. Repeated instructions from the War Minister to General Mariscal to institute an active campaign have failed to produce any effect, and talk of a warm friendship between Mariscal and Blanco has led to an investigation of Mariscal's loyalty.

Aside from Salina Cruz, Acapulco now is the only port on the Pacific that has reliable railroad connections with the capital in the possession of the Federalists. It is to them might make it impossible for military supplies contracted for in Japan to reach the Federal arsenals.

New Revolution Predicted.

Douglas, Ariz., January 16.—Refugees who arrived here to-day from Ojinaga predicted that a new revolution, directed against both the Constitutionalists and the Huerta government, would be proclaimed in Northeastern Mexico as soon as General Francisco Villa's army starts on its march to Mexico City. The refugees said the state of Durango was the stronghold of the movement, which was backed by former adherents of Porfirio Diaz.

Inflammatory literature being circulated in Durango refers to the constitutionalists as "technocrats," meaning literally, "skin men."

SUES FOR DIVORCE IN FAIRFAX COUNTY

Beautiful Wife of Samuel Willett,
New York Society Man,
Charges Cruelty.

[Special to The Times-Dispatch.]
Washington, January 16.—Mrs. Marie Willett, the beautiful wife of Samuel Willett, New York clubman and society man, filed suit for divorce in Fairfax County, Va., to-day.

The papers filed consist only of a short affidavit making the general charge of cruelty, and ask that counsel fees and alimony be fixed in keeping with Mr. Willett's income. Under the Virginia law Mr. Willett has thirty days in which to file a bill of particulars.

Mrs. Willett was located in Washington to-night. She declared that after two unsuccessful matrimonial ventures—first as the wife of Hastings Arnold, from whom she secured a divorce in February, 1910, at Reno, and now as the wife of Mr. Willett—she is through with matrimony.

"Never again," she said to-night. "I am tired of matrimony, and I am going to devote the rest of my time to dogs. I have been so busy for the last year taking care of my dogs that I have no time for anything else."

"I bought my first dog in Virginia three years ago, after my separation from Mr. Willett, and intend to live there. I have spent most of my time there among my horses and dogs. I hardly have time for this divorce business, as I am going to enter twelve dogs in the New York Dog Show."

"My case is to be heard the first Tuesday in February, and I do not know what answer my husband will make to the charges. But I have proof of every complaint I have made. The cruelty I allege is not simply a form of speech, but a physical actuality, as he has struck me several times."

"Mr. Willett will be very much surprised when he hears of this suit, although he had an idea that it might be filed. He dislikes publicity, and thought it should be kept quiet. "I do not think it is necessary for a woman to go through life unhappily married when she can resort to the divorce courts. I never intend to have to do this again."

Before her first marriage Mrs. Willett was Miss Marie Holmes, of East Hampton, L. I., and was regarded as a belle. She has always been athletic in temperament, and is devoted to the game of tennis. Mrs. Willett is a personal friend of Mrs. William H. Hitt, who was Miss Katherine Elkins, and Mrs. William H. Hitt. She has frequently exhibited at the same shows with them, and recently was at the New York Horse Show with Mrs. Hitt. Their country places in Virginia are not far apart.

Nazimova.
Tiger, tiger burning bright
In the forests of the night,
What immortal hand or eye
Framed thy fearful symmetry?

Back comes the faulty old rhyme to boot. It is the memory of the fellow wickedness, the steady, murderousness, the padded tread of burning, and the hopeless desolation of its wages that is Nazimova's Bella Donna.

Lucifer himself conceived the woman. Hiccuped made a book about her, and Fagan dramatized it, but Nazimova framed her in the steady, murderousness, the padded tread of burning, and the hopeless desolation of its wages that is Nazimova's Bella Donna.
